We strive to:

- reduce carbon dioxide emissions by modernizing the fleet with more energy-efficient aircraft, applying advanced technologies to save fuel and optimize flights, thereby actively contributing to global efforts in the fight against climate change (Goal: Zero emissions by 2050);
- in all business operations, reduce waste, our aircraft noise emission and energy consumption, with the aim of improving environmental efficiency;
- ensure a high level of safety for all passengers and staff, continuously improving our safety standards;
- actively participate in projects that support the development of local communities and improve the quality of life in the areas where we operate;
- respect all laws and regulations, maintaining high standards of corporate responsibility and the fight against corruption.

Our business practices are fully aligned with the Law on Environmental Protection and with all relevant legislative frameworks and international standards, in order to achieve the best results for our company and all of our stakeholders.

Integrating sustainability into business

Our business leaders, management teams and staff work together to:

- Consider environmental issues in all phases of business process planning;
- Integrate environmental criteria into procurement decisions and business strategy.

Air Serbia is committed to long-term sustainable development, with a focus on reducing negative impact on the environment, improving social responsibility and creating value for all our stakeholders. Through transparent reporting on progress in achieving our goals, we strive to demonstrate leadership in environmental protection, contributing to strengthened trust and business sustainability.

Regular update of sustainable development policy

Air Serbia is committed to regularly updating this sustainable development policy to ensure that it remains aligned with the latest global standards, regulatory requirements and industry best practices.
